

Table of Contents

Foreword

The second postwar period. The constitution as a project for a new society	11
---	----

I. THE KNOT OF CONSTITUENT POWER

1. The post-sovereign constituent power	21
2. The procedural conception of the constitution	30
3. Exhaustion of constituent power?	35
4. The people as a revolutionary ruler	38

II. THE CRISIS OF THE VOLUNTARY CONCEPTION OF THE CONSTITUENT POWER (AND, CONSEQUENTLY, OF THE CONSTITUTION)

43

III. THE JUDGES' CONSTITUTION

1. Guardian of the constitution, interpretation and constitutional revision	65
2. The struggle for constitutional interpretation	73
3. Birth and development of the basic struc- ture doctrine	115

IV. TOWARDS A GLOBAL CONSTITUTIONAL LAW?

1. The supranational dimension of rights as a factor of constitutional disruption 143
2. The institutions of global law and their fruits 154
3. Private entities as public authorities in the global arena 164

Bibliografia 171

Abstract 209