

Table of contents

11	INTRODUCTION
17	1. ASOCIAL MEDIA AS THE TROJAN HORSE TO A MIDDLE MANAGERS SHARED MEANING-MAKING PROCESS
18	1.1 Introduction
20	1.2 Theoretical Background
20	1.2.1 Do means of transportation matter? The space/time dimensions along which the meaning travels
21	1.2.2 Middle managers sensemaking effort: A computer mediated communication perspective
23	1.2.3 Social media, virtual work and the abstract spaces of communication
24	1.2.4 Research objective
25	1.3 Method
27	1.3.1 Background of the case study
28	1.4 Findings
28	1.4.1 Shrinking discursive social space to mediate across
32	1.4.2 Increased temporal distance for the message to enter the span of attentionality of recipient; Implications on middle manegrsmediating efforts
34	1.5 Discussion
39	References

41	2.	HOLDING A LOOSE GRIP DURING TRANSLATION EFFORT OF ORGANIZATIONAL CHANGE? ADOPTING PHENOMENOLOGY TO EXPLORE HOW MIDDLE MANAGERS EXPERIENCE IS BOUND TO AND BY THE IM MATERIALITY OF THE VIRTUAL SPACE
42	2.1	Introduction
44	2.2	Theoretical Background
44	2.2.1	Following middle managers during translation stages of alignment and enrollment of the actor network
47	2.2.2	Adopting existential phenomenology as translation effort shifts in virtual space
48	2.3	Methodology
48	2.3.1	Case description
50	2.3.2	Data collection and analysis
54	2.4	Findings
54	2.4.1	Alignment of ideas and actors
56	2.4.2	Enrollment/mobilization of troops
57	2.5	Discussing the implications of virtual work setting for translation work and identity
59	2.6	Practical implications
60	2.7	Limitations
61		References
65	3.	BACK TO EXECUTIONERS AGAIN? HYBRID WORK A BOOSTER TO THE IRRELEVANCE OF MIDDLE MANAGERIAL UPWARD AGENCY
66	3.1	Introduction
68	3.2	Theoretical framework
68	3.2.1	Understanding middle managers mediating work and their agency across organizational boundaries
71	3.2.2	The debate
72	3.2.3	The spatio-temporal flexibility of hybrid work; exploring its implications for MM function as mediators

73	3.3	Methodology
73	3.3.1	Research Design
75	3.3.2	Data Collection
76	3.3.3	Data Analysis
78	3.4	Findings
79	3.4.1	Restricted opportunity for action upwards
81	3.4.2	Increased possibility for action downwards
83	3.4.3	Middle managers as intermediary objects
84	3.5	Discussion and implications
87	3.6	Limitations and directions for future research
89		References
95		CONCLUSION
97		punto org book series